

Permission to go Slightly Mad

After much consultation with The Director, it has been deemed appropriate to grant them temporary permission to go Slightly Mad.

This is by no means fully fledged Madness; nor is it leading to Insanity.

It is merely a momentary lapse of raison d'être, in the hope that this temporary arrangement will lead to further clarity around the future of the Ministry.

As a result, the current project to assess our relationship with the United Kingdom is put on hold.

Normal Ministry operations such as the Treasury and all related financial aspects will continue.

Other endeavours remain at the discretion of The Director, and further communication will be sought in due course.

For now, this Department reminds everyone that a person's own health (both mental and physical) should be their primary concern over anybody else's.

Take care of yourself.
